STYLE: DARK GRAPHIC NOVEL | GENRE: NEO-NOIR DETECTIVE THRILLER

A weary detective pursues an elusive phantom through the rain-slicked neon labyrinths of the lower district, only to discover the suspect is a ghost of his own past.

PANEL 1: THE GHOST IN THE ALLEY [SPLASH...]

NARRATION:

The rain doesn't wash away the sins of this city; it just makes them shine a little brighter under the streetlamps.

DETECTIVE VANCE:

"You've been three blocks ahead of me all night, old friend... or am I just chasing my own shadow?"

PANEL 2: THE REVELATION AT DEAD END [THUMP... THUMP...]

NARRATION:

Sometimes the hardest monster to catch is the one wearing your own badge.

DETECTIVE VANCE:

"God help me... it was never you running away."
